Surrounded By Saints

The Historic Church of St. Patrick, November Focus on Saints

Week Two

So, we spend our lives striving to be like the saints, by whom we are surrounded at every turn. Is this an insurmountable task? Life can be so difficult. "I'm no saint, you know."
Last week, we first looked to the Holy Family as exemplars of being who God calls us to be.
Here's a short prayer that could be a help.

Prayer to the Holy Family
Jesus, Mary, and Joseph,
I give you my heart and my soul.
Please watch over me
And keep me always free from sin.
Bless my family,
My friends and acquaintances, and all people.
Grant peace to our earth,
And lead us to you in Heaven.
(Paraphrased from St. Joseph Children's Missal, Copyright 1963, 1954)

This week, let us take a look at the left-side transept window (the big one with St. Patrick), the double window to its right, and Mary's altar. First, Patrick. This window, in beautiful stained-glass color, tells the story of St. Patrick sharing the faith with the people of Ireland. The depiction shows him teaching the truth of the Holy Trinity with a three-leaf clover.
Imagine the difficulties Patrick faced upon his return to Ireland as a former slave, now priest and teacher. Patrick was following God's will in big decisions and in simple realities. Above this, still looking at the transept window, are the four great saints of Ireland. Imagine the challenges faced and met by Saints Brigid of Kildare, Columba, Brendan, and the aforementioned Patrick! To their immediate right is a double window showing two Doctors of the Church, Saint Gregory and Saint Augustine. (Augustine's mother, Saint Monica, prayed constantly for her wayward son. It worked!)

Mary's altar is next for our studying eyes. She is in the center niche with her hands extended toward us. She is our Mother! To her left is Saint Agnes, to her right Saint Catherine.

How can we take all of this to heart? In "Gaudete et Exultate," our late Pope Francis called for us to use discernment in the big decisions of life and to also follow God's will in simple everyday realities, just like Mary, Patrick, and the other saints viewed at HSP today. We are surrounded by saints to study and emulate. Until next week.

Cabrini

From Alejandro Monteverde, award-winning director of Sound of Freedom, comes the powerful epic of Francesca Cabrini, an Italian immigrant who arrives in New York City in 1889 and is greeted by disease, crime, and impoverished children. With broken English and poor health, Cabrini builds an empire of hope unlike anything the world had ever seen.

The Afterlife | Eternal Rest | Episode 2

What happens after the moment of our death? Once the soul has been separated from the body, then what? What is heaven, hell, and purgatory? This session looks at the truth about what awaits the human person on the other side of death.

How to Advent | Episode 2

The Advent wreath is an invitation to enter into the waiting and preparation for the birth of our Savior! As we explore the meaning of the Advent wreath – its light, colors, and components – we can better grasp how we should be preparing our hearts. As the light from the candles grows brighter and brighter throughout the four weeks of Advent, so too grows our longing for the coming Light of Christ.
